6. Discussion Items

6.1 Marketing Display Update – Cathy Abbott

One of the marketing tools used for the campaign will be to recreate real pillars/steps of the campaign. The structure will be a piece of art of around 3 to 7 feet tall (possibly a welded frame with frosted plexiglass coverings that could have lights inside that indicate the level of the goal attained), and will be displayed around the Coachella Valley.

These displays could become an attraction that people would take selfies with and make a game or competition of getting pictures at all of the displays. This could also encourage people to come visit the valley.

The first one of these pillars is currently being constructed and is expected to be completed within 3 weeks. Cathy Abbott and Kirstien Renna are scheduled to meet with John Ramont this week to discuss where the structure could be displayed on the Palm Desert campus. They are hopeful that it can be placed at the Monterey entrance of the Campus.

Marlene O'Sullivan mentioned the fourth pillar's name should be corrected renamed as "EDGE-PIEDGE."

6.2 Potential Honorees

The Committee considered Lance O'Donnell a fourth generation architect in Palm Springs who taught for 21 years at the College of the Desert as an adjunct professor of architecture, as a potential honoree. Mr. O'Donnell is involved in the programming and the new architecture school in Palm Springs.

Marlene O'Sullivan provided an update on the discussion she had with him. Mr. O'Donnell provided three tours of the College of the Desert Campus during Modernism week and he has very interesting stories to share, since he accompanied his father who has worked on the campus' construction starting in 1962.

Marlene O'Sullivan discussed with Mr. O'Donnell about the possibility of creating a historical document for the College by videotaping his stories once the campus opens again. When the taping happens, some President's Circle members could be invited to attend. The Committee suggested that Mr. O'Donnell could do a lecture and a PPT with pictures on Zoom about the history of the campus. CV Strategies could help him put together such a presentation.

Marlene O'Sullivan will contact him and find out what the limitations are and what he would like to do and come back to the Committee at their next meeting. She will also inform him that the College is in discussion with the Palm Springs Architectural Alliance.

The committee discussed scheduling the unveiling of the video during the potential culminating event in March or April, which would be great promoting piece for the College since a full architectural degree will soon be offered for the Palm Springs Campus.

Another potential honoree recommended was Sydney Williams who has been very well known in the architectural field for many years, and her father has been in charge of the construction of many buildings on College of the Desert's campus. The Committee agreed that the Architecture area was an effective way to fundraise and attract a lot of people.

The Committee also proposed Greg Hough as a potential honoree. He has been very involved during the modernism week for the past three years and would be interested in putting together videos of him and his friends on their memories growing up in the desert and attending College of the Desert.

6.3 Campus Tour Virtual Videos

Cathy Abbott met with Jim Williams who chairs the Campus Tour Advisor Committee, to discuss the virtual videos which would replace the in-person campus tour videos that cannot be used at this time due to the Campus Closure. This project will be tentatively completed by the beginning of the year.

Cathy shared the timeline of the campaign to show the Committee how the video could be used at the beginning of the year forward.

6.3 Conclusion

The Committee recommended that the Campaign should end in May instead of June.
